Introduction

Feedback is an essential element of the learning process. The University collects the feedback on various curriculum aspects and courses from different stakeholders such as the students, alumni, Faculty, and Parents through online and offline mode. The feedback collected from these people has been analysed and taken to the consideration for the development of curriculum, teaching learning process and providing updated environment in the University.

Student's feedback

Students' Feedback

The Students' Feedback on curriculum and teaching learning process at Lingaya's University, Faridabad campus is designed to get formative feedback from students that can be used towards the improvements in the quality of course design and delivery, as well as student learning experiences. For the academic year 2020-21, students' feedback is sought from around 434 students about the curriculum and teaching learning process. Majority of the student population agreed that the syllabus is very much challenging, and the allocation of credits is appropriate in relation to the level of course work. Majority of the students strongly agreed that the syllabus is covered by the teachers on time and the content provided in the syllabus is well sequenced and equipped with necessary technical skills required for their professional areas. It is observed that 84% of the respondents agreed that the courses are in tune with their respective field of specialisation. The university provide digital classrooms to the students for their better understanding. The students' feedback revealed that the elective courses that are offered are much relevant to the specialisation streams and technological advancements and students can study their area of specialisation and interests. The specialisation offered to the students are like finance, marketing, HR. Also, students agreed that the Industrial exposure given to them enhanced their understanding of the concepts and enable them to relate theoretical components to practice.

Student's Feedback:

Feedback analysis report

- The analysis of the students' feedback clearly depicts that they are well satisfied with the curriculum development and revision.
- The students highly appreciated the academic related infrastructural facilities such as library, laboratories, playground, canteen, hostel and other facilities.
- It is observed from the students' feedback that few of them expressed the need of more ICT facilities.

Teachers feedback to design and review of Syllabus (Curriculum)

Teachers' Feedback

Feedback on various aspects of curriculum is sought from 40 faculty members of Lingaya's University. The aspects such as provision of adequate time and resources for framing syllabus, coverage of both theoretical and practical components in the syllabus, the coherence of the syllabus with Programme Outcomes, involvement of the field experts while designing the syllabus, focus on necessary technical/ teaching skills, ensuring components that inculcate ethical values, enlisting reference books, focus on flexible curriculum based on current trends, updated elective courses etc. As teachers play a pivotal role in designing and implementing the curriculum, the inputs received from their feedback was taken into consideration for further necessary action wherever applicable. Majority of the teachers agreed that syllabus is framed with major focus on necessary technical skills required for Special education in management. Teachers have given the feedback that curriculum is flexible for enrichment, revision and modification based on recent trends and innovative ideas. Teachers have also agreed that they have the freedom to adopt new teaching pedagogy for curriculum strategies which is beneficial for the professional growth of staff as well as for students in the long run.

Feedback analysis report

- The analysis of the teachers' feedback reflects the adequacy and availability of teaching-learning facilities.

- The feedback from the teachers revealed the validity and adequacy of the syllabus is quite helpful in reframing the course content according to the societal needs.
- Various suggestions related to the modifications in the curricular content are noted for further necessary action.

Feedback Analysis Report of Feedback Collected From Different Stakeholders
Academic Year: 2016-2017

Student Feedback:

The students are the most important stakeholders of Higher Education systems. The interest and participation of students at all levels in both internal quality assurance and external quality assurance have to play a central role. We have collected feedback (Table 1) from our under graduate students and post graduate students for different semesters. A special five point scale feedback form on the curriculum is developed. We have received total 405 students' feedback on the syllabus (2016-17) of the various programmes designed by the Mechanical Engineering Department, Lingaya's University, Faridabad, Haryana.

Reports of Analysis of Feedback on Curriculum

Academic Year 2016-17

Students Feedback:

As students are the most important and affected stake holders of any Educational Institute, their feedback plays a important role in quality improvement of the education being imparted by the Institution. For year academic year 2016-17 feedback was asked from students in February 2017, in which students of 2nd, 4th, 6th and 8th Semester participated. They were asked to give feedback on a sliding scale of 1 to 5 on fifteen important points covering from curriculum, its usefulness in getting employment and updating knowledge, revision of syllabus at regular intervals, practical's being conducted and many more important points. It is observes that approximately 45 % students have strongly agreed, 27 % has agreed whereas about 7 % has disagreed to various points. No strongly disagreed has been given by any of the students. Their response to different points are summarized below:-
